

Tanya Sam: Entrepreneur, Angel Investor, and Media Personality

Tanya Sam is a distinguished entrepreneur, angel investor, and media personality, dedicated to empowering the next generation of minority entrepreneurs and authors. As the Director of Partnerships at TechSquare Labs and founder of The Ambition Fund, Tanya has mentored over 60 companies led by women and minority founders and invested in over 50 companies that have collectively generated more than $100 million in revenue.

Co-founding Elizabeth and Minnie Publishing with Jeanell English, Tanya is committed to amplifying the voices and stories of Asian, Black, Indigenous, Latino, and Middle Eastern communities, with a special focus on women. Inspired by their grandmothers—Elizabeth, Jeanell's great-grandmother, and Minnie, Tanya's grandmother—the publishing house honors their legacy by diversifying the entertainment industry and championing untold stories.

Tanya also founded the Tanya Time Book Club to celebrate the power of community and storytelling. Tanya has appeared on the TV show The Real Housewives of Atlanta, hosted Making of a Mogul, and the Greenwood podcast Money Moves. She serves on the Board at Kate's Club.
